Flipped Classroom in COVID times

Mysuru, July 17- The Flipped Classroom concept offers an innovative solution to the unmet challenges of traditional class room. Using video technology students digest content at their own pace and use their time in the classroom to tackle difficult problems. It also creates practical instances to foster face to face collaboration, says Dr. N. N. Prahallada, former Faculty, Regional Institute of Education (RIE), NCERT, Mysuru.

Dr. Prahallada

A Flipped Classroom is an instructional strategy and a type of blended learning that reverses the traditional learning environment by delivering instructional content, often online outside the classroom. It moves activities including those that may have traditionally been considered home work into the classroom.

It is a pedagogical model in which the typical lecture and home work elements of a course are reversed. Short video lectures are viewed by the students at home before the online class session starts.

Impact: The impact of the Flipped Classroom will be on the learning environment and students prefer this innovative method of instructional strategy. This model appears to be more successful among students.

Benefits: It promotes student- centred learning and collaboration, helps class time to master skills, encourages students to teach and learn concepts from each other with the guidance of their teachers.

Pros and Cons: Students have more control, lessons and contents are more accessible, it can be more efficient and can create a digital divide.

Steps for implementing Flipped Classroom: Select a standard, develop an assessment, locate instructional content, plan your in-class activities and evaluate.

Pointers: Decide which technology you will use, which video service you will use, make your videos, make your students accountable for watching your videos and teach them in the glow of stress-free online teaching.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Don't miss the cloud behind the silver lining. The Class XII CBSE pass result has soared to an all-time high of 88.8%. The number of students scoring 95% and above has more than doubled. If only these higher marks were a reflection of students getting more skilled and more competitive. Instead, the odds are they simply mirror an assessment scheme relaxed to compensate students for the many disruptions originating in the pandemic. The goal of reducing student stress levels during this turbulent time is excellent and laudable. But it is a fallacy that high marks can accomplish this by themselves. The real stresser, after all, is shortage of opportunities. When every bout of grade inflation raises cutoffs for higher education even higher, it is no succour. That India's GER is only 27% compared to Indonesia's 36%, Thailand's 49% and the US's 88% is just one measure of the toll taken by our failure to build adequate colleges and universities. Licence raj continues to suppress autonomy and expansion in this sector. Browbeating the private sector to make up for public sector deficiencies is counterproductive. As the pandemic has underlined the key role of good government services in healthcare, so too is raising the standard of publicly funded schools and universities essential. What the students need is an ecosystem where government institutions deliver quality education and private options are plentiful. It is better prospects alone that will best alleviate students' stress. Meanwhile, crudely chopping syllabi will only worsen their disorientation and should be reconsidered. — In The Times of India

Five storey building turned into vertical garden

Hanoi: Deep inside Hanoi's Dong Da district is one of the Vietnamese capital's most unique landmarks – a 5-storey apartment buildings completely covered by a living, creeping, green curtain.

The so-called "living building" of Hanoi is the work of Prof. Dr. Hoang Nhu Tang – former lecturer at Hanoi University of Civil Engineering. It all started 30 years ago, in 1990, when this was one of the tallest constructions in the area, with no shelter from the scorching sun during the summer. So Hoang decided to plant two creeper plants to both filter sunlight and also regulate the temperature in building as they grow on. His idea worked, and three decades later, the plants still fulfill their intended purpose, while also attracting curios sightseers from all over the city and beyond.

Woman hatches egg carrying it in her bra for 35 days

California: A California woman is being lauded for going above and beyond to ensure that a cracked duck egg she found in a park hatched, by incubating it in her bra for over a month.

Betsy Ross, an independent contractor from Visalia, California, was walking with her family in a public park when her kids noticed that someone had smashed all the duck nests that were there. Miraculously, one of the duck eggs had survived the massacre with only a small crack and the kids begged her to save it and try to help it hatch.

Betsy didn't have an incubator, so she had to find a way to hatch it herself. The best spot she could think of to keep it warm was in her bra, close to her chest as the eggs basically require warmth and humidity. The young mother of three carried the egg in her bra for 35 days till it hatched.

Digital learning classes by SVM to bridge teacher-student gap

Sagar

Mysuru, July 17- Sharada Vidya Mandir (SVM), Sri Jayachamarajendra PU College, Mysuru, is conducting digital learning classes to provide education solution to students through its new video-taped digitalised classes. Technology should be utilised in such difficult times (COVID-19) which could be a simple solution for a number of students who can be educated by staying at home safe and study.

The gap between the teachers and students is bridged with the help of technology at SVM. The lessons are video-taped and uploaded to the Google drive and the sharable link of the video is sent to the students.

This system of communication with students is user (students) and teacher-friendly. Students can download and watch the video whenever they can and also repeat it for any clarification. This method helps students who cannot afford Wi-Fi, Internet or attend online classes, and also helps students in rural areas who face electricity and internet issues.

WhatsApp group

In this regard, SVM has also formed a CET, NEET and JEE WhatsApp group where students receive synopsis, MCQs and answer key on daily basis and the progress of the students are often checked in video calling and discussing with the teachers over call, said C. Sagar Chakravarthy, Acting Principal of Sharada Vidya Mandir.

Digital learning is different from the traditional face-to-face teaching. The importance of the teacher being there and being mentally present with the students at least on their computer screen or mobile phones is more important than nothing, said a student of the institution.

High-level team inspects KRS Dam's structural repairs

Water Resources Department Secretary Lakshmanrao Peshve and team during their visit to KRS on July 15 to ascertain the preparedness of the Dam to receive and release water.

By S.T. Ravikumar

Mysuru, July 17- The COVID-induced lockdown has thwarted Karnataka Water Resources Department's annual summer dam and canal repair works project. Now is the time to scramble on a war-footing before the monsoon gains vigour. Preparations are on in full swing to handle heavy inflows to 13 major reservoirs across the State.

The reservoirs that are being readied to handle inflows include the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam in Mandya District, the lifeline of South Karnataka region and Tamil Nadu. As part of the preparations, a team headed by Water Resources Department Secretary Lakshmanrao Peshve visited KRS on July 15 to ascertain the readiness of the Dam to receive more water, especially in the months of August, September and October where the water level will be at its maximum like last year.

When the water level at KRS touched the 100 feet mark on July 8 this year, officials from Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited (CNNL) that manages the Dam had told Star of Mysore that they had utilised the lockdown time to repair and maintain the 173 crest gates so that they can receive more and more water till the Dam reaches its brim. The gates were also made ready to discharge water as and when the Dam reaches its maximum level of 124.80 feet.

Handling more inflows

Water Resources Department Secretary Lakshmanrao Peshve's team was apprised of the works taken up by CNNL this year, especially during lockdown. The lockdown has had an adverse impact. In the months of March, April and May, CNNL officials prepare the Dam and canals in such a way that when monsoon waters come, it is handled properly.

The three-month period enables the Department to dig out rodents, snakes and bandicoots which have burrowed into the crevices on the structure leaving it weakened. After December and January months, water flow stops and the Dam structure becomes extremely dry.

The dry conditions harden the soil, resulting in cracks which encourage rodents and reptiles to burrow into the structure. When water flows in the monsoon time, there is likelihood of cracks getting widened or extended further.

COVID-19: A Novel and MAHAN Initiative !

Yes you may say "Oh no, this is just another article about COVID-19!" But I would like to say, No, this is not just another article about what you should do to keep yourself safe from picking up the COVID-19 infection. It is also not about what is going wrong across the country in managing COVID-19. But this is an article about what your doctors are doing, right here, in your own city, to keep you safe and get you back on your own two feet and send you home walking if not running from the hospital if you do happen to catch COVID-19 with your carelessness!

Yes, the invisible virus is driving us nuts and turning our lives and our whole world topsy-turvy but we have to beat it even if it seems like an impossible task. And, amid all the agencies that are helping you to do it, which are now called 'The COVID Warriors' are your medical teams. We are reading and seeing painful reports of seriously ill COVID patients, including some doctors who own hospitals, not being able to find ICU beds in most cities. Desperate Governments, driven to the wall, are asking Private Hospital Managements in almost all States, to reserve fifty percent of their beds exclusively to treat COVID cases.

Looking at the helplessness of the situation this certainly seems like the right thing to do but there is a catch here. And it's a very big catch and it concerns your own safety! If COVID patients are treated in General Hospitals, Government or Private, they can pose a huge risk to all the other patients who go there for treatment and their attendants too who accompany them. So given a choice no one would even like to go near any establishment that deals with COVID cases and this fear psychosis is justified too.

With the virus being most notorious for its infectivity, nothing can be more dangerous or more effective than mixed medical establishments in spreading it far and wide across the countryside even as we are combating it on all fronts.

To prevent this catastrophe from happening and to still comply with Government directives and provide care to all categories of COVID patients, MAHAN (Mysuru Association of Hospitals, Nursing Homes, Clinics and Diagnostic Centres) has come up with a very novel and certainly noble initiative to manage them without giving room for any hazard to non-COVID patients or their attendants.

Losing no time to weigh the pros and cons and the ifs and buts, we at MAHAN immediately swung into action and declared in one voice that we would pool our resources and manpower (Woman Power, included, mind you!) and establish and manage not only separate high-end hospitals but also comfortable quarantine centres for non-symptomatic COVID positive cases and monitoring and treating centres for mildly symptomatic cases across the length and breadth of our city.

A few MAHAN members with very large hospitals like the JSS and the Apollo Group went a step further and have already established their own individual COVID Care facilities which is again a very bold and laudable move. But most medium, mid-sized and small member hospitals are now involved in what has come to be called the MAHAN COVID Care Consortium. As a first step, the District Administration has offered us the 100-bedded Vikram Jeshta Hospital in Yadavagiri to be run by us as a high-end COVID Care Centre to manage the battle casualties among COVID Warriors.

Yes, despite all the high-tech precautions that these heroes take while going about their work, we are finding more and more doctors, para medical staff, Police and civic service personnel getting infected, often with very distressing results.

MAHAN is also in the process of establishing another 40-bedded COVID Care Centre at Gautam Hospital in Srirampura which will be open to the public very soon. Patients will be treated there upon payment of the Government prescribed treatment charges. Yes, even for all the private hospitals, wherever they are, the treatment charges are fixed and closely monitored by the Government with a fool-proof grievance redressal system in place. This should put an end to complaints from the public about any incidents, real or imagined, of overcharging and exploitation by Private Hospitals.

In addition to this, MAHAN in league with the Hotel Owners'Association of Mysuru is establishing very comfortable boarding and lodging facilities with very reasonable rates, to accommodate at least 2,000 COVID positive cases who may be non-symptomatic or only mildly symptomatic without the need for hospitalisation. With these developments, I'm sure that you will all agree with me that the silver lining edging the dark clouds of despair that are hovering over us, will certainly begin to look much brighter. But that's not all.

More and more member hospitals are likely to join the COVID Consortium bandwagon and so we are more than likely to augment our facilities and services to not only effectively meet the crises head-on but to contain it too. It requires deputing a great chunk of our existing staff from our own hospitals to our COVID Care Centres, inconveniencing ourselves in the process and also recruiting additional hands and paying them all greatly augmented salaries to reward them adequately for their dedication, courage and commitment to serve the society.

It is certainly a humongous task but our unity and our coherent, coordinated and selfless efforts will pay us all very rich dividends in terms of soul satisfaction and sound sleep on the pillow of a clear conscience!

Heroes too are ordinary people who dream big and wake up inspired, to chase their dreams! While talking of inspiration, an almost unknown hero comes to my mind. I came to know about this little fellow from one of my patients who happened to get well after being admitted to the Government-run COVID Care Centre at the District Hospital on KRS Road. He is an orphan child who has studied up to II PUC class. He became a victim of the COVID virus and was admitted to the above facility where he thankfully made a complete and uneventful recovery.

To thank providence for it and to repay his debt to society, armed with the knowledge that he was immune to the infection at least for the present, he has decided to serve COVID afflicted patients. Even as he was recovering, it appears he was cheerfully running around the place, helping doctors and care-givers in their work, now being called a Hero!

It appears he knows everything about every patient admitted there and can tell in the blinking of an eye when each one of them is slated for discharge! We at MAHAN felt that we cannot have a better brand ambassador than him to infuse his indomitable spirit into our mission and inspire our entire team. So we decided to take him into our fold as one of our many volunteers.

When I spoke to him on the phone about it, as you rightly guessed, he said that MAHAN is where he wants to be! So when you pass by one of our Hospitals next time and if you happen to see a little fellow darting around and guiding and helping all those who seem lost and helpless, you know who he is!

Also, cracks are caused on the Dam structure due to excessive heat. If not repaired and restored, it is risky when the high-velocity water penetrates the cracks. The repair process is called grout — a thin mortar used for filling spaces such as the joints in masonry.

Repair protocol followed

This year, the unforeseen lockdown ate into repair operations, forcing the Department to forgo the usual tender process to identify contractors to finish the work on a war-footing with manual labour. However, the CNNL officials told Lakshmanrao Peshve's team that the annual repairs were done as per the procedures and protocols laid down in the repair guidelines.

The team is expected to submit a report on the preparedness of the KRS Dam to the Internal Committee of Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) constituted by the Supreme Court. The Internal Committee comprises irrigation experts from the Cauvery Basin States of Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Kerala and Puducherry. The team had brought certain equipment with them to verify the claims made by the CNNL officials.

Other dams to be inspected

"No human activity occurred during the lockdown, restricting the Department's regular work. We were also under lockdown. No surveying could be done and nothing could be monitored. There were no vehicles to go. Now things are moving in the right direction and we are inspecting other Dams in the State too," Peshve told CNNL officials.

The team directed the CNNL authorities not to wait for Government order to release water from KRS crest gates. As it is monsoon season, the tail-end farmers will be expecting water for irrigation and also, water must be periodically released to Tamil Nadu as per the Supreme Court judgement. Officials were told to watch the inflow from the catchment areas in Kodagu and then manage the release as per the water release cycle.

Officials were also asked to keep an eye on Dam security by keeping the security force and the CCTV cameras up-to-date. The Dam security is managed by the Central Industrial Security Force (CISF). In case the State Government permits tourists to the Dam, officials must be ready with a plan to handle tourists too, they were told.

Shankaregowda, Chief Engineer, Irrigation Department, Superintending Engineer Vijay Kumar, Executive Engineer Raju and Assistant Executive Engineer Vasudev and other officials were present during inspection.

Pathetic condition of road since last two years

Sir,

The Vijayanagar Main Road stretching from Ring Road, all the way up to Kalidasa Road, is in a pathetic condition since the last two years. It has been dug up by multiple agencies including Vani Vilas Water Works for laying water pipes/UGD lines and Telecom Companies. There are big open pits at so many places which can cause danger to pedestrians and prove fatal to two-wheeler riders, if there is even a minor mishap.

At some places, for quite a few meters, there is no road at all. Some work or the other keeps happening the entire year for which the road is dug up every now and then.

There are multiple road cuttings which haven't been filled up properly or asphalted. Rains have taken their own tolls. There have already been several minor accidents on this bad stretch of road. Local residents have filed online complaints but to no avail.

Volunteers of Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), led by Mysuru District President, inspected the road, took photographs and spoke to residents, who expressed their anger at the bad state of roads. Also a complaint has been filed online to the MCC Commissioner.

Will the authorities concerned, Corporators and Chamaraja MLA wake up and address the long-standing grievance?

Postpone K-SET and COMED-K exams: NSUI National Secretary

Mysuru, July 17- The National Students Union of India (NSUI) has urged the Karnataka Government to postpone the K-SET and COMED-K exams scheduled on July 30, 31 and August 1, 2020, in the wake of a surge in COVID-19 cases day by day in the State.

In a press release, NSUI National Secretary Mamatha Nerlige has expressed concern over rapid spike in positive cases across the nation. "We have watched Medical Education Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar saying 'Karnataka's COVID-19 tally may double in 15-30 days' and Health Minister B. Sriramulu saying 'Only God can save us.' Amidst all these circumstances, the Government is putting 1.94 lakh students, faculties, and their families' health at risk by conducting K-SET and COMED-K examinations," the press release observed.

Also, due to lockdown, many rural students had no adequate access to coaching and are unprepared, NSUI National Secretary said and urged Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, Primary and Secondary Education Minister S. Suresh Kumar and Higher Education Minister Dr. C.N. Ashwathnarayan to reconsider their decision and postpone the exams keeping in mind the safety of students.

Last Ashada Friday rituals held amid absence of devotees

MP Shobha Karandlaje climbs steps to seek blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari

Mysuru, July 17 (MTY&DM)- Amidst the ban on entry of devotees as a crowd-control measure in the wake of COVID-19 pandemic, the Fourth and last Ashada Friday was celebrated in a simple and symbolic manner at Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Chamundi Hill this morning.

The rituals began as early at 4.30 am with priests, under the guidance of the Temple Chief Priest Dr. N. Shashishekar Dikshit, performing Mahanyasapoorvaka Abhisheka, Rudrabhisheka and other associated poojas. After completion of all the customary rituals the Temple was opened at 7 am, following which the presiding deity, decorated in 'Simhavahini Alankara' was taken around in a procession within the temple premises. After Mahamangalarathi, the Temple was closed at about 8 am.

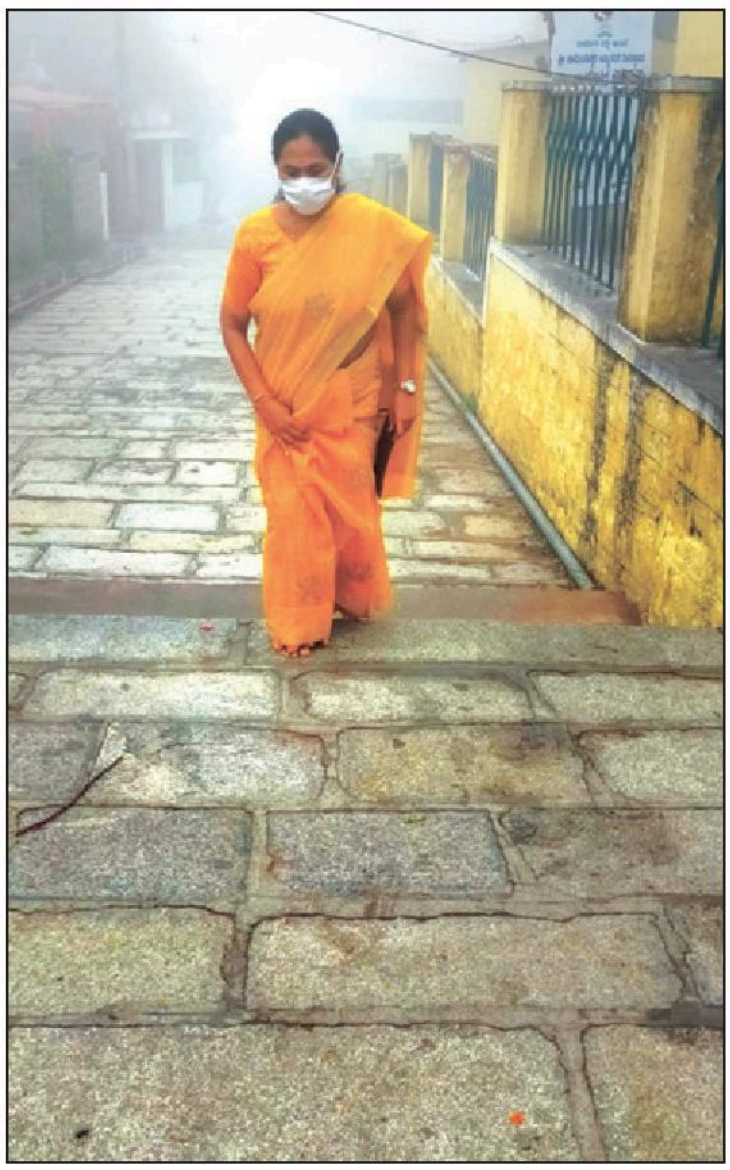
MP climbs steps

In keeping with her vow of visiting the Hill Temple every year during Ashada month, Udupi-Chikkamagalur MP Shobha Karandlaje climbed the steps of Chamundi Hill in the early morning chill and had Darshan of Goddess Chamundeshwari. She was accompanied by Chamaraja MLA L. Nagendra, Senior BJP leader and former Karnataka Exhibition Authority Chairman B.P. Manjunath and a few other local BJP leaders.

It may be mentioned here that Shobha has been visiting the Hill Temple at least once a year after she donned the role of Mysuru District Minister for some time when the BJP Government headed by B.S. Yediyurappa first came to power over a decade ago.

Former MLA denied entry

Even as BJP MP Shobha Karandlaje succeeded in visiting the Hill Temple by climbing steps, former K.R. MLA M.K. Somashekar and some Corporators who wanted to visit the Hill Temple by road on the last Ashada



Friday, were denied permission by the Police.

The vehicles of the former MLA, the Corporators and a few residents were stopped by the Police at the entry gate on the main road leading from the foothill. Also, public were seen arguing with the Police on the special permission being given to VIPs amidst the ban on entry of devotees.

No entry for devotees till July 20

As a crowd management measure, the District Administration has extended the ban on entry of devotees to Chamundeshwari Temple till July 20. Accordingly, the Temple will be shut for devotees from today, the last Ashada Friday, till July 20. The District Administration has already banned the entry of devotees on Saturdays and Sundays during the Ashada month. The Temple will re-open only on July 21.

KSRTC Mysuru suspends bus services to Bengaluru

No buses to Mangaluru, Udupi and Manipal also

Mysuru, July 17(RK&DM)- Following the enforcement of a week-long (July 14 to 22) total lockdown in COVID-19 Hotspot Bengaluru Urban and Bengaluru Rural Districts as a measure to contain the spread of the deadly pandemic, the KSRTC Mysuru Rural Division has suspended bus services to Bengaluru city and other places in the two districts, till July 22.

KSRTC Mysuru Rural Divisional Controller Srinivas told Star of Mysore that due to the complete lockdown in Bengaluru city, bus services to Bengaluru has been stopped from Wednesday morning itself.

Pointing out that the KSRTC used to operate about 220 to 240 trips to Bengaluru everyday, he said that to and fro bus operations have been completely suspended on account of the lockdown from early morning of July 15. However, buses are operating to destinations such as Mandya, Maddur, Channapatna and Ramanagara, which come on Bengaluru Highway. But only a handful number of trips are being operated to these destinations as there are hardly a few passengers, he added.

Srinivas further said that buses to coastal destinations such as Mangaluru, Udupi and Manipal too have been suspended for lack of passengers. Barring trips to destinations in Kodagu, Mandya, Hassan and Chamarajanagar districts, the KSRTC has been operating very few buses to long destinations in the past couple of weeks, he added.

WORD OF THE DAY

Collimate

Pronunciation: KAH-luh-mayt.
Meaning: To make parallel.
Origin: One might expect a science-y word like collimate to have a straightforward etymology, but that's not the case. Collimate comes from Latin collimāre, a misreading of the Latin word collineāre, meaning "to direct in a straight line." The erroneous collimāre appeared in some editions of the works of ancient Roman statesman Cicero and scholar Aulus Gellius. The error was propagated by later writers—most notably by astronomers, such as Johannes Kepler, who wrote in Latin. And so it was the spelling collimate, rather than collineate, that passed into English in the 19th century as a verb meaning "to make (something, such as light rays) parallel."
Example: "Amazingly, some astrophysical jets—streams of charged particles collimated and accelerated over astronomical distances—also exhibit a helical structure." — Mario Livio, The Huffington Post

THE ODD WORD

Cacidrosis

Smelly sweat

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The call of the wild

Meaning: The appeal of nature in the raw.
Origin: Jack London had a novel of this name published in 1903, although the phrase may have preceded this. The Call of the Wild is a short adventure novel by Jack London, published in 1903 and set in Yukon, Canada, during the 1890s Klondike Gold Rush, when strong sled dogs were in high demand. The central character of the novel is a dog named Buck. The story opens at a ranch in Santa Clara Valley, California, when Buck is stolen from his home and sold into service as a sled dog in Alaska. He becomes progressively feral in the harsh environment, where he is forced to fight to survive and dominate other dogs. By the end, he sheds the veneer of civilization, and relies on primordial instinct and learned experience to emerge as a leader in the wild.
London spent almost a year in the Yukon, and his observations form much of the material for the book. The story was serialized in The Saturday Evening Post in the summer of 1903 and was published later that year in book form. The book's great popularity and success made a reputation for London. As early as 1923, the story was adapted to film, and it has since seen several more cinematic adaptations.

Some areas in NR and Chamaraja declared restricted zones till July 24

Six areas in Narasimharaja Constituency completely sealed down with 6 am to 10 am shopping window

Shops on the busy Ashoka Road and K.T. Street closed as a few areas in NR and Chamaraja Constituencies have been made as restricted zones.

Mysuru, July 17 (MK&BCT)- In the wake of rising COVID-19 infection rate and deaths in Mysuru, especially in Narasimharaja (N.R.) Constituency, Deputy Commissioner (DC) Abhiram G. Sankar, who also heads the District Disaster Management Authority, has declared certain areas of the Constituency and some areas of adjoining Chamaraja Constituency as restricted zones. The orders will be in force from 6 am on July 17 (today) till 6 am on July 24.

The order has been passed using the powers bestowed on the DC under Karnataka Epidemic Diseases Act, COVID-19 regulations Rule 12 and Disaster Management Act 2005 Column 24 and 34 and the areas where the order will be implemented will come under the jurisdiction of Narasimharaja, Udayagiri, Lashkar Mohalla and Mandi Mohalla Police Stations.

The decision has been taken in consultation with District Minister, area MLAs and other elected representatives, religious leaders, doctors, Police and the officials from the Mysuru City Corporation. Under the restricted zone rules, all kinds of hotels, tea shops will be closed for dine-in service but will be open only for parcel service.

All commercial activities have been banned except for essential services like groceries, food, milk, vegetables, medicines, banks and Government offices. Meat and fish stalls can open only on Tuesdays and Fridays. All religious, festival and customs gatherings have been barred and entry of public has been restricted to prayer halls and religious places.

Marriages and other pre-decided ceremonies can be held but they must have attendance below 50 and not more than that. There will be no restrictions for movement of people to the above said relaxations but unnecessary movement has been banned.

Six areas sealed down

In the first stage, Muneshwara Nagar, KHB Colony, Udayagiri, Rajivnagar, Beedi Colony and Sathagalli Layout has been sealed as deaths have been reported in these areas. A 400-metre area around the houses of the deceased will be sealed.

In the areas where there are sealed down rules, essential services, groceries, fruits and vegetable outlets can be open only from 6 am to 10 am.

In the areas that have been sealed down, only Government officers, contract workers with valid identity cards will be permitted to move around and any other public movement has been banned.

Rapid testing

Officers from the Health Department and the Mysuru City Corporation have been asked to test all members of families in sealed down areas every day and if need be, use Rapid Antigen Test Kits for faster results.

In case positive cases emerge, they must be immediately shifted to the designated hospitals or care centres through ambulances without any delay.

For the first phase of COVID test and survey work, a minimum of 400 Rapid Antigen Test Kits have been reserved and District Tuberculosis Control Officer Dr. Ravi has been instructed to hand over the kits to the field staff.

Asymptomatic COVID-positive patients or patients who have mild symptoms must be shifted to the nearest COVID Care Centre and the MCC Commissioner has been instructed to identify facilities to be converted into care centres.

Chaiwalas asked to shut shop until further orders

Mysuru, July 17 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has ordered the closure of tea stalls in Mysuru due to Coronavirus scare.

The MCC has taken this decision as many people were seen standing in front of tea stalls in violation of COVID-19 protocols.

The order to this effect was issued by MCC Commissioner Gurudatta Hegde yesterday. As per the order, tea shops including road side stalls on footpaths have been ordered to shut shop till further orders.

Despite several measures being taken by the MCC and the District Administration to control the spread of COVID-19, it has come to notice that the social distancing has been given a go by in such shops.

Many customers are seen gathering in groups in such shops smoking and chatting and at the same time sipping tea. This is a high-risk activity as the chances of infection spreading are more. Customers do not wear masks and vendors do not maintain hygiene at such shops, the order stated.

Officials said that the MCC has taken this decision as groups of 10 to 20 persons are always seen at tea stalls at any given point of time.
